

Web Apps. Website Development. Design & UX.

Big Ideas. Smart Digital Solutions.

We passionately invest in technology-driven ideas and the people who value them.

Azavar Technologies is a digital agency in Chicago built as a team of enthusiasts who are absolutely fascinated with how the latest in technology can help businesses solve real-world business problems. We started in 1996, when the Internet was barely out of its incubator. We've grown up with technology, which makes it easy to see where it could be headed next.

CAPABILITIES & SERVICES

Digital Design and User Experience

Our design process and pixel-perfect attention to detail keep your brand and user journey top of mind. We put users first from the get-go.

Mobile Apps

Our mobile apps support video/text communication, mobile payments and QR code technology. And, we can leverage them to increase advertising response and customer loyalty.

Web Apps

A well-conceived, well-designed and well-executed web app can lift sales, provide loyalty-bonding customer service and hit productivity home runs.

Website Development

We start with understanding the user journey, which drives design and content. We build on the Sitefinity CMS to support in-house maintenance. And, we design and develop with mobile responsiveness top of mind.

E-Commerce

Whether your company is B2B or B2C, we've got the hands-on experience to build that ultimate e-commerce website. To support online buying, we make sure the wheels are greased among every process and system along the way, including security, pricing and ever-changing inventory.

Systems Integration

We'll find the technology solution that pulls together all your siloed, manually updated and redundant data into a single, integrated system that hums with efficiency. We can develop a web-based interface that integrates with your existing ERP or CRM.

Digital Strategy Consulting

We're on top of the latest trends, applications and protocols that can help you gain—and keep—a competitive edge. We focus on your unique business needs to become your partner and trusted advisor.

Managed Solutions

We're the partner who can help with post-launch managed services, such as hosting, maintenance and inbound marketing, to achieve measurable, lasting results.
